2. I added a form to fill for a free discount if they provide me with their name, and email address and how they heard about my shop. I also added a form to fill to contact us should they have any questions and dedicated a page for it.

I added a simplistic add to cart button that does not work, but makes it feel real when on the shoe page for sale.

3. I had reached a lot of stopping points for the logo and navigational panel, I could not get it to be small no matter how hard I played with the css stylings.

4. The easy part was coloring and choosing pages to do, challenging part was implementing them from scratch, I used my old assignments to build a webpage, however I wouldn't have remembered off the top of my head how to build from scratch as our assignments are prefilled and require little coding.
